HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

What Was Done at Yesterday's Afternoon Session.

Mr. Robertson presented the report of the special committee to which was referred the question of the eligibility of certain gentlemen elected by the House to the Council of State. It was found that M. P. Robinson, John Ena and George W. Smith were ineligible on the date of their election, because they held the following offices, respectively, under the Government, to wit: member of the Board of Agriculture, member of the Board of Health, and member of the Board of Fire Commissioners. These gentlemen had resigned the offices mentioned, and the committee renominated them for election.

The report was adopted and Messrs Robinson, Ena and Smith were again elected to the Council of State.

The House passed the joint resolution for a commission on land transfers and ordered it transmitted to the Senate.

The House adjourned till 10 a.m. today.
